Short Description

Artist's note: "This is one of the early paintings of my official artist career and I did not yet have the confidence to create something more ambitious and imaginative. I had a great fear for failure when I was creating this artwork and felt nervous while painting. If I were to re-create this painting now, I'd make the tail of the peacock larger in size and more complex in detail."

The size of the original painting is 65 x 52 cm
